Future Urban Development Area Planning for the City of Verona

Monday, February 15
6:30 p.m. - 9:00 p.m.
Verona Senior Center
108 Paoli St. Verona WI

Share your experience and opinions on how Verona will respond to growth and its future place in the region.

Participate in the Future Urban Development Area planning process, and utilize tools available through the Capital Area Regional Planning Commission to create a regional growth plan for the City of Verona.

Topics will include:

- How do Verona's population and demographic trends compare to the rest of the region and what is forecasted for the future?
- What are the existing development opportunities within Verona's existing area?
- Visualize Verona:
 - What do you want Verona to look like?
 - Take the visual preference survey!
 - Help us spice up the community design standards.

As the regional planning agency for Dane County, the CARPC has developed a Future Urban Development Area (FUDA) planning process that will help guide future Dane County urban growth patterns. We are seeking the input of Verona residents, business owners and its rural neighbors as the City of Verona participates as a pilot community for the process.

Sponsored by The Capital Area Regional Planning Commission and the City of Verona
