The Dane County Department of Human Services' mission is "to meet essential health and human needs of the people of Dane County" and, wherever possible, help them increase their independence.

Our programs serve people from birth to death. We make sure children are healthy and safe. We offer support for individuals with disabilities, substance abuse and mental health needs. We help meet basic economic needs such as housing, employment, food and medical and we support healthy families.

We've been providing these and other services for more than 50 years.

Adult Community Services

This division funds and provides care and support for older adults and people who have a developmental disability, serious and persistent mental illness, a physical or sensory disability.

Services offered include case management, community support programs, day support, nursing and other in-home care, respite care, residential care, vocational services, and transportation.

To qualify, an individual must be a Dane County resident and, for most services, must have a substantial impairment in day-to-day functioning. These programs assist individuals and families who are experiencing significant needs. Some programs have lengthy waiting lists.

Many services have financial eligibility requirements and/or require that individuals contribute toward the cost of services they receive.

Badger Prairie Health Care Center

Badger Prairie Health Care Center is a 130-bed licensed skilled care nursing home operated by the Dane County Department of Human Services. It provides care to adults with special needs that prevent them from residing in other settings.

Badger Prairie has six clinical units which offer individualized services that take into account the resident's age, disability, and treatment needs, with an emphasis on a holistic, goal-oriented care philosophy. These treatment units include a locked unit for residents with high behavioral needs, an unlocked unit designed to help residents develop skills needed to return to community living, a locked dementia specific unit, an unlocked geriatric psychiatric unit, and two unlocked units for people with complicated medical or care needs that also exhibit challenging behaviors.

Badger Prairie accepts multiple payor sources including the State Medicaid Program, the Federal Medicare Program, Private Pay and Private Insurance. The facility's highly trained treatment staff have extensive experience in working with adults with persistent and serious mental illness, physical disabilities, various stages of dementia, developmental disabilities, and high medical needs. Badger Prairie Health Care Center also provides short-term rehabilitation and Hospice Care.

For more information on services, rates or the mechanism to refer a resident for admission, please call the Admission and Social Worker Supervisor at 845-1220.

Children, Youth & Families

This Division works to prevent and intervene in child abuse and/or neglect and juvenile crime. In addition, the Division supports mental health services and alcohol and other drug services.

Services are delivered through field offices and community-based Joining Forces for Families (JFF) teams. Our goal is to work to keep families together whenever possible.

Services include neighborhood-based prevention services, child abuse and neglect investigations and supervision of children found delinquent or in need of protection or services.

We also provide or support case management, respite care, family and individual counseling, parent education, foster and group home care, employment related services, alcohol and other drug abuse treatment, in-home support services, and institutional care.

Key Contacts for Services:

For information on other services available to children and families, please contact the Dane County Human Services office, or the JFF team nearest you. A complete listing of office locations and JFF contact information is included on the other side of this brochure.

Economic Assistance and Work Services

This Division helps low-income individuals and families in Dane County meet their basic needs.

Services include Wisconsin Works (W-2), Medical Assistance, Food Share and Child care.

The Division also provides employment and training programs for W-2 and Food Share recipients as well as emergency shelter for the homeless.

There is a single application that determines eligibility for all programs. Once we receive your application, an "intake" is scheduled with an economic assistance worker, if needed. Many intake appointments can be completed via telephone. The intake will be used to gather additional information and documentation, answer any questions you may have and explain eligibility for programs.

Key Contacts for Services:

For information on specific programs, application process and eligibility contact the Dane County Department of Human Services' "Connections" line at 242-7441 or connections@co.dane.wi.us.

To report changes on your case, contact the Change Reporting Center at 242-7500 or crc@co.dane.wi.us.
